United States District Court
Eastern District of California

Duke E. Cannon,
Plaintiff, Civ. No. S 03-1769 LKK PAN P
vs. Order on Request for Counsel
Dan Chartier, et al.,
Defendants.

-oOo-

Plaintiff is a state prisoner proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis in a civil rights action. Plaintiff moved for appointment of counsel December 15, 2005.

In proceedings that do not threaten a litigant with loss of physical liberty, there presumptively is no right to appointed counsel. Lassiter v. Department of Social Services, 452 U.S. 18, 26-27 (1981). Section 1915(e)(1) of Title 28 confers discretion upon the court to request counsel represent an indigent civil litigant. Mallard v. District Court, 490 U.S. 296 (1989).

1 In deciding whether to appoint counsel the court exercises
2 discretion governed by a number of factors, including the
3 likelihood of success on the merits and the applicant's ability
4 to present his claims in light of their complexity. Weygandt v.
5 Look, 718 F.2d 952, 954 (9th Cir. 1983); see also, LaMere v.
6 Risley, 827 F.2d 622, 626 (9th Cir. 1987). Ordinarily the 7 presumption of regularity in the state's procedures for confining
8 prisoners suggests a lack of likely success and counsels against 9 appointment of counsel. See Maclin v. Freake, 650 F.2d 885, 887
10 (7th Cir. 1981). As a general rule, the court will not appoint
11 counsel unless the applicant shows his claim has merit in fact 12 and law. Id. Even if the applicant overcomes this hurdle, the 13 court will not appoint counsel if the law is settled and the 14 material facts are within the plaintiff's possession, viz., they 15 do not require investigation outside the prison walls. Id. at 16 887-88.

17 Here, plaintiff alleges his constitutional rights were
18 violated when defendants retaliated against him for exercising
19 first amendment rights. The law governing these issues is 20 settled. There is, on the record before the court, no reason to 21 believe appointment of counsel would be of significant benefit.

22 Plaintiff's December 15, 2005, request for the appointment
23 of counsel therefore is denied.

24 So ordered.

25 Dated: December 20, 2005.
